PHLEBOTOMIST CERTIFICATION

Phlebotomists typically enter the occupation with a postsecondary non-degree award from a phlebotomy program. Programs for phlebotomy are available from community colleges, vocational schools, or technical schools. These programs usually take less than 1 year to complete and lead to a certificate or diploma.

Programs have classroom and laboratory portions and include instruction in anatomy, physiology, and medical terminology. Some phlebotomists may enter the occupation with a high school diploma and are trained to be a phlebotomist on the job. Study aids such as study guides, flashcards, and practice questions from Mometrix Test Preparation are a great way to prepare for the exam.
